Herreshoff Dinghy Columbia. Catspaw is a carvel planked with 1/2" cedar over steam-bent oak frames, and copper rivet fastened.

This is a story told in pictures about what it means for a craftsman to work in a way which connects him to a larger living tradition which he wants to continue and preserve. The story is about what makes some handcrafted wooden boats feel as if "something more" was built into them. Something more than all of the combined materials and different pieces and parts. It's "something more" that can only become part of the build if the craftsman works with his heart as well as his head and hands. When he works with a love of his craft, he gives the boats he builds a timeless sense of value which can be appreciated for generations to come.

Greg Rossel grew up cruising the waters of New York Harbor and spending time in the boatyards on the south shore of Staten Island where economics (more than anything else) made wooden boats the craft of choice. He makes his home in Maine where he specializes in the construction and repair of small wooden boats, as well as writing for several publications. Greg has been an instructor at WoodenBoat School in Maine since the mid-1980's, teaching lofting, skiff building, and the "Fundamentals of Boatbuilding".

The beauty of this book is that the construction bugs have already been worked out of the designs. Plans, step-by-step instructions, material lists photographs and detailed diagrams.

A shop manual on building an exceptional rowing dory. Designe by Philip Bolger, this dory is fast, seaworthy and a delight to row. Simple plywood cosntruction.
