small Muslim sect of India, ruled by an avaricious priesthood that demands absolute submission while enforcing archaic social customs. When a section of the community rebels, it is summarily excommunicated, shunned by friends and family, and denied religious rites. The novel follows the fate of two blissful teenage lovers, Akbar and Rukhsana, whose dreams of a happy life are shattered when their families end up on opposite sides of the communal split.

to individual renewal, corporate revival and cultural revolution. It will help deliver those trapped in postmodern culture, heal those paralyzed with organized religion, and will bring life to those well DONE with American Churchianity. The daily quotes and motivational readings and practical subject index are designed to transform the ordinary Christian into an extraordinary believer. It will help those who only expect the natural to experience the supernatural. It will help those tempted to give up the faith to keep the faith.

history -- can neglect the vital shaping role of the popes. In Keepers of the Keys of Heaven, eminent religion scholar Roger Collins offers a masterful account of the entire arc of papal history -- from the separation of the Greek and Latin churches to the contemporary controversies that threaten the unity of the one billion-strong worldwide Catholic community. A definitive and accessible guide to what is arguably the world's most vaunted office, Keepers of the Keys of Heaven is essential reading for anyone interested in the role of faith in the shaping of our world.

Archaeologist Connelly gives us the first comprehensive cultural history of priestesses in the ancient Greek world.

Connelly presents the fullest picture yet of how priestesses lived and worked, from the most famous and sacred of them--the Delphic Oraclea

From the author who's inspired millions worldwide with books like Tuesdays with Morrie and The Five People You Meet in Heaven comes his most imaginative novel yet, The Time Keeper--a compelling fable about the first man on Earth to count the hours. The man who became Father Time. In Mitch Albom's exceptional work of fiction, the inventor of the world's first clock is punished for trying to measure God's greatest gift. He is banished to a cave for centuries and forced to listen to the voices of all who come after him seeking more days, more years. Eventually, with his soul nearly broken, Father Time is granted his freedom, along with a magical hourglass and a mission: a chance to redeem himself by teaching two earthly people the true meaning of time. He returns to our world--now dominated by the hour-counting he so innocently began--and commences a journey with two unlikely partners: one a teenage girl who is about to give up on life, the other a wealthy old businessman who wants to live forever. To save himself, he must save them both. And stop the world to do so. Told in Albom's signature spare, evocative prose, this remarkably original tale will inspire readers everywhere to reconsider their own notions of time, how they spend it, and how precious it truly is.

The New Way has captured the small town of Fiddlers Creek. The city is divided into wards, and the homes of citizens are searched. The Holy Bible tops the list of contraband. In B. J. Middleton's new religious thriller, Treasure Keepers, The Stand, three young defenders of the faith fight to save the Bible from a new world government determined to destroy it. Jonah, Anna, and Cooper struggle to overcome the death of loved ones, school bullies, and their own fears to protect the last few remaining copies of the Word of God. Pursued by the Community Guard, New Way Cadets and killer drones, the young defenders answer God's call to stand. B. J. Middleton is a former elementary, middle school and junior high art teacher and junior varsity softball coach. Drawing on her teaching and coaching experience, she writes Christian fiction for youth encouraging them to contend for the faith and take a bold stand for God. Writing is her main obsession, but other passions include hiking the mountains, early morning walks, singing, playing the guitar and composing an occasional song. Coffee shops and small-town excursions provide pleasant weekend outings with her spouse. She lives on an island in Georgia with her husband and their Dachshund and Chihuahua.
